Privacy Disclosure and Consent

The Hamilton Amateur Radio Club (HARC or “the Club”) has adopted a Privacy Policy that is consistent with the Personal Information Protection Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA). The full policy document is available on the Club's web page at <https://www.hamiltonarc.com>

A written copy may be obtained by requesting from any member of the Board of Directors.

In summary, the Club collects information that is required to facilitate your enjoyment as a member. We safeguard all information and will not disclose it without your informed consent except as required by law. We will never sell or lease your contact information.

To qualify for our group liability insurance, HARC is required to provide RAC (Radio Amateurs of Canada) a list of member's names, call signs and RAC membership numbers (if applicable). We will not release your contact information to any other third party without your consent.

If you have provided an e-mail address, we will use it to send you club-related messages, including newsletters and bulletins. Your e-mail address will not be visible to any other recipient. To opt-out of this correspondence, please contact a member of the Board of Directors.

Code of Conduct

The Hamilton Amateur Radio Club (HARC) requires that all members agree to abide by the club's Code of Conduct. The full document is available on our website or can be provided on request. It is summarized here:

"HARC members shall not conduct themselves in a manner which is likely to intimidate, offend, insult, humiliate or discriminate against any other person on the ground of gender, race, disability, age, religious or political belief, sexual orientation, social background, ethnic origin, education, language, marital or civil partnership status, or medical condition."

Please read the following carefully and give consent where agreeable.
